MEDIA RELEASE

TOP YOUTH PADDLERS SET TO LIGHT UP THE LOCAL TABLE TENNIS SCENE

SINGAPORE, 8 June 2017 –Counting down! Only 4 more days to the 23rd Southeast Asian Junior & Cadet Table Tennis Championships, which will be held at the Toa Payoh Sports Hall from Tuesday, 13 June to Friday, 16 June 2017.

Southeast Asia's best youth talents from Brunei Darussalam, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, Vietnam and Singapore will come together to compete in the 23rd Southeast Asian Junior & Cadet Table Tennis Championship, which will be hosted by the Singapore Table Tennis Association (STTA) and sanctioned by the Southeast Asian Table Tennis Association (SEATTA). Singapore last held the Southeast Asian Junior & Cadet Table Tennis Championship in 2002.

The Southeast Asian Junior & Cadet Table Tennis Championship promises to capture the imaginations of sporting fans. The gold and silver medallists in this Championship team event will qualify for the junior team event in the Asian Junior Table Tennis Championship 2017, held from 29 June to 4 July 2017, in Asan, South Korea.

We would like to invite you and your photographer to cover the event. Please join in the excitement, as our Singapore paddlers will be there to defend their gold medals on home soil. They are bent on fighting to extend their winning streak.

For your information, we have attached the tournament schedule. The draws for the team events will take place on Monday, 12th June and the draw for the individual events will be conducted on 13th June 2017. The draw results will be posted on our STTA Facebook: facebook.com/sgtabletennisassociation.

Admission to the tournament is free and please catch our promotional video on our STTA Facebook.

Members of the public may also catch the tournament live on STTA's Youtube channel: youtube.com/SingaporeTableTennisAssociation and/ or STTA Facebook.

We look forward to your support.
