MEDIA RELEASE

SPORTS EXCHANGE WITH TABLE TENNIS ASSOCIATION FOR THE DISABLED

Today, the STTA had a sports clinic with athletes from the table tennis disability squad at 6pm at STTA. This sports clinic provided an opportunity for the athletes with a common interest to share their experiences and compete with one another.

The table tennis disability squad is currently working hard to prepare for the 7th ASEAN Para Games 2014, where they are determined to add to Singapore's success in table-tennis. Meanwhile, the national paddlers are also training for the 27th SEA GAMES, MYANMAR 2013 and will be departing for the games on 12th December 2013.

"There are no barriers when it comes to table tennis. Table Tennis is a game that can bring people from all walks of life together. Our friends from the table tennis disability sport are incredible people who have performed feats we hardly thought possible. I am in awe to what they can achieve by sheer talent and determination. I believe that the team not only has the ability to win medals in the upcoming 7th ASEAN Para Games 2014, but has the ability to inspire our fellow Singaporeans. I trust the team will deliver to the best of their abilities and I wish them all the very best of luck," says Feng Tianwei.

Er. Dr. Lee Bee Wah, Member of Parliament for Nee Soon GRC & President, STTA added ". These athletes are all catalysts for change and role models for Singaporeans . Their stories and performance will challenge the way people think about themselves and how they think about others. They will not just inspire a generation of Singaporeans, but many generations to come. Hence, I would like to encourage Singaporeans to come forward to lend their support and cheer them every step of the way in the coming games."
